New P. O. Ruling in Effect.
We do not propose to fight the postal authorities and consequently must submit to their ruling and drop 189 names from our list of subscribers, this week.

Of course we do it reluctantly, but we can see no other way than to obey the ruling, and if you don't get your paper this week, you will know the reason. Don't blame us as we are not responsible, it's the new postal ruling which requires a one-cent stamp affixed to each paper when the subscriber is 12 months or more in arrears.

This means pay up and get inside the postal credit limit or send in some money for us to pay the postage or get on without the paper.

See, read and consider premiums offered. It means just what it says. Will you help us?
Hon. John P. Swasey has consented to become a candidate for Congress. He could not withstand the pressure of his political associates and personal friends and he has formally announced his candidacy in a letter written in answer to one sent him by the Republican County committee. No doubt Oxford County delegates to convention will be solid for him. It certainly should be as there is no more loyal or deserving Republican in the County than Hon. John P. Swasey. The Advertiser hopes he will get the nomination as we feel it belongs to him, and we say nothing about the election as we have equally strong hope that a Democrat will have the seat in Congress, but if a Republican is to have it we feel it should go to Mr. Swasey.

Is certain if you take Hood's Sarsaparilla. This great medicine cures those eruptions, pimples and boils that appear at all seasons; cures scrofula sores, salt rheum or eczema; adapts itself equally well to, and also cures, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles; cures rheumatism and catarrh; cures nervous troubles, debility and that tired feeling.

Sarsaparilla—For those who prefer medicine in tablet form, Hood's Sarsaparilla is now put up in chocolate tablets called Sarsapabls, as well as in the usual liquid form. Sarsapabls have identically the same curative properties as the liquid form, besides accuracy of dose, convenience, economy, no loss by evaporation, breakage, or leakage. Druggists or promptly by mail. C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.

Mrs. C. K. Tyler, Burlington, Vt., says: "The cures of a large family, so much to do and so little health to do it with, caused almost a complete breakdown. Hood's Sarsaparilla gave me appetite, natural sleep, perfect health, strength to do all my work."

Elwell S. Crosby.
Sketch of One of the Republican Candidates for Congress.

[Special Correspondence of the Advertiser.]
Bath, Apr. 2, Elwell S. Crosby of this city, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress in the second district, was born in Arrowville in 1856.

He came to this city in 1878 and his first employment here was at the cabinet shop of James and Eben Morse, where he remained for a year, and then entered the employ of George and Joseph T. Donnell at the old cordage factory, where he remained for two years. From the factory he worked in the ship yards up to 1877, and then entered the employ of the ship building firm of Adams & Hitchcock, attending to the clerical work, where he remained until ceasing of the business concern.

It was there that he got his first insight into finance, and where he commenced to learn keen business methods which have since developed and served the city's interests so well during the past four years.

ELWELL S. CROSBY, Bath, Me.

Following the winding up of the affairs of Adams & Hitchcock, Mr. Crosby decided to build vessels on his own account, and in 1887 commenced the construction of his first vessel. Having had many years of practical experience in the various branches of the ship building industry, he was enabled to conduct the work along practical lines, thus taking advantage of many details which would naturally bother a man of less experience. Many ship yard employees often speak of Mr. Crosby to this day, and never forget mentioning the fact that if there was any trouble about the work, he was never afraid to take off his coat and work as hard as any man in his employ.

Ever since 1887, he has been connected directly with the ship building industry, until two years ago, when he was obliged to give up his personal interests by accepting the collectorship. His relations with his employees have always been of the pleasantest and harmony has always existed as it did when he built his first vessel.

For four years he served in the city council from Ward Two, first as a member of the common council, and then in the aldermanic board, where for two years he was president. He was a member of the finance committee all these years, and subsequently became chairman. He has been a member of the Republican city committee and in 1905 was elected mayor.

Before the expiration of his mayoralty term he became a candidate for appointment to the collectorship. It proved a strenuous fight at the beginning with four candidates in the field, but the contest finally narrowed down to himself and the Hon. William Rogers. As the matter was left with Congress, Mr. Crosby completed his term of office as mayor on the third Monday of March, 1900, he was sworn into office as collector of the port the next day.

Mr. Crosby is a member of Wesley Methodist church, is married, has a beautiful home on High street which he built several years ago, and has two sons and a daughter. His eldest son, George, is associated with him in business and looks after a large share of his father's insurance business.

The Portland Evening Express, the leading Republican paper of Maine, in an editorial March 31, says: "The Bath Times makes a strong appeal for the selection of a Bath man for Congress, and so far as we are concerned we are disposed to grant the strength of its argument, if we may not approve of its candidate. What is the reason that a life-long Republican with a political record no part of which needs to be covered up, such as we understand Collector Crosby to be, would not creditably represent the shipping city and the district?"

SOUTH WATERFORD.

Melville Monroe.

Melville Monroe died Thursday, Mar. 26, after an illness of only eight days. The cause of his death was pneumonia, from which he had suffered several severe attacks in recent years.

This event has cast a sensation of deep sorrow over the entire community, as by his general business connections and his civic and social relations, no citizen was more widely known and esteemed than he.

Mr. Monroe was born in this village on June 19, 1854. He was the son of Josiah and Jane (Sawin) Monroe and was descended in the third generation from William and Achsah (Sawyer) Monroe, who came to Waterford from Harvard, Mass., in 1802 and settled in this village.

They were the parents of 14 children. Melville was in early life bred to the business of clerk in a county village store of Monroe & Walker at Harrison and succeeded that firm in the same business for a time.

He married Oct. 10, 1875, Alma Augusta Proctor, daughter of Samuel Proctor of Bridgton while residing in Harrison and soon removed to his native village where he has resided ever since.

For the last 28 years he has been a contractor and builder, in which line of business he had maintained a good reputation for integrity and excellent workmanship.

For 10 years Mr. Monroe has filled the office of town clerk as successor to the late Dr. Wilson. In fraternity life he was for many years a prominent member and officer of Bear Mountain grange, P. of H., and was conspicuously noted in his own and neighboring granges for knowledge of the ritual, regulations and general ceremonial of that order. He was a charter member of Valley Spring lodge, No. 104, K. of P., established in 1902, and had been keeper of records and seals from the date of that organization. He was a Democratic candidate for clerk of courts for Oxford county in 1902.

Melville Monroe was a kind husband and father, and will be missed in his home; and as a neighbor and fraternity man his absence will be deplored by all.

The funeral service was on Sunday at 2 p. m. at the late home and was solemnized by Rev. S. G. Davis of Norway. Members of Bear Mountain grange and Valley Spring lodge were present. The interment was in Elmvale cemetery, and the Brotherhood of the deceased were in procession. Relatives present were: Mrs. Louise M. Wood and Franklin Tyler Wood, sister and nephew, Hyde Park, Mass.; Mrs. W. F. Perkins, Bangor; Mrs. W. E. Smith, Springfield, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Horace Proctor and Mr. and Mrs. Abner Allen, Bridgton.

The casket was adorned with a bewitching profusion of fragrant flowers, the gifts of love from distant and near friends.

Mr. Monroe is survived by his wife and four children, Alice Mae, Ethel Maude, Frank Atherton and William Sawin Monroe. Frank is employed in Haydensville, Mass. The others reside with their mother. He is also survived by three sisters, Mrs. Mary J. Hayes of Malden, Mass.; Mrs. Cyrus Plummer, Bingham Canyon, Utah; Mrs. Louise M. Wood, Hyde Park, Mass., and a brother Josiah Monroe of Philadelphia.

Maria Haggood was taken on Saturday with neuralgia affection about the chest which caused much suffering. She was reported to be more comfortable.

NORWAY AND VICINITY.

First Men Killed in Rebellion.
Norway is proud of the distinction of being the birthplace of the first man killed in the war of the Rebellion. Sumner H. Needham was born at Norway, Me., March 2, 1828, and lived in town for some years, going from Maine to Massachusetts, where he finally located in Lawrence.

Killed in the Baltimore riots, the career of Needham was thus cut off at the very beginning of the war. He was a brave man and had already proved his bravery by heroic conduct that had greatly endeared him to his friends. His portrait hangs in the G. A. R. hall of Norway and is one of the treasured possessions of Harry Rust Post.

Sumner Henry Needham was the son of Levi and Maria (Latham) Needham, and was grandson of John Needham, the Revolutionary patriot and one of the earliest settlers of Norway. He was born at Norway, March 2, 1828, and moved from here to Greenwood and then to Bethel. He was one of a large family of children, having four brothers and two sisters. Only two of the family are left, Mrs. Melinda Needham Bean of Bethel, and Mrs. Emma C. Newell of Saco, Me. His brother, Charles M. Needham, was chief bugler in a Rhode Island cavalry, and died at Tampa, Florida, 1907.

When he lived in Bethel, Sumner Needham worked at first with his father on the farm, but when he was 21 he went to Lawrence, Mass., and learned to be a mechanical engineer. He married Hannah Johnson, a Maine girl from Sanford, soon after he went to Lawrence. Their son, Sumner Henry Needham, was born in November, 1861. The last known of him lived in Lawrence. Mrs. Needham died a few years ago.

Sumner Needham joined the Lawrence Light Infantry and early in the spring of 1861, enlisted in the Sixth Massachusetts Regiment. The stormy passage of that regiment through Baltimore at the time the mob attacked the men of the regiment has been vividly described in history.

The men mustered on Boston common, and on April 17, 1861, started for Washington. On the 18th, in passing through Baltimore from the Philadelphia to the Washington railroad station, the regiment was attacked by a mob. Four soldiers were killed and the first shot was fired at Sumner H. Needham. The other soldiers whose names are known are Addison O. Whitney and Luther O. Ladd, both of Lowell, Mass.

The regiment finally reached the train on Baltimore and Washington railroad, and soon afterward arrived at the Capital. This riot, where Needham was killed, was the shedding of the first blood in the great Rebellion.

After Needham was shot he was taken to the Lombard street hospital and died on the 27th of April. He was a member of the Universalist church of Lawrence, and the day after his death, the church passed resolutions of sympathy for his afflicted family.

Mr. Needham had served a number of years in the Lawrence Light Infantry and had been First Lieutenant, but he had resigned and reenlisted in 1860, and was serving as corporal at the time of his death. He was taken to Lawrence and his funeral was attended with special services as are seldom accorded to any but dignitaries high in office. The State and city governments were present. He was buried in Bellevue cemetery, Lawrence. The city of Lawrence erected a thousand dollar monument to his memory, and gave a deed of it to his widow, Needham Post and Needham Hall in Lawrence and named for the dead soldier. —Lewiston Journal.

Frederic E. Boothby.

The Norway Boy Who May Be Maine's Next Governor.

Frederic E. Boothby was born in Norway on Dec. 3, 1845. He was the son of Levi T. and Sophia F. Boothby. His family shortly after his birth moved to South Paris and later to Waterville, where his father was one of the prominent citizens for many years. While in Waterville Levi T. Boothby founded the Boothby Insurance agency, one of the largest and one of the most important of central Maine.

Frederic E. Boothby received his early education in the public schools and later entered Waterville Classical Institute, now Coburn Classical Institute, graduating from that institution at the end of his course.

He had a determination to become a railroad man early in life, a determination which, with his natural ability and characteristic energy, has won for him through all the steps of promotion the present position of trust and responsibility.

It was the day that the first passenger train on the Grand Trunk, then the Atlantic & Labrador, entered South Paris that Mr. Boothby reached his decision to become a railroad man, and shortly after, in the year 1861, he entered the employ of the Somerset & Kennebec railroad. His duties were to carry the mail between the station at Waterville, where his father was at that time agent, and the Waterville postoffice.

This position, while in a sense a minor one, had its responsibilities and cares, and he discharged his duties with care and three years later he entered into his active railroad career and life work.

At that time he became the master of transportation at Waterville in the employ of the Maine Central, the corporation of which he is now one of the active heads.

When in April, 1871, the consolidation of the Maine Central and the Portland & Kennebec railroads came about Mr. Boothby was made under the new management paymaster and freight auditor.

He held this position until 1874 when he was promoted to the office of general passenger and ticket agent of the whole Maine Central system, a position he has held ever since. It has been in his long term of office in this position that Mr. Boothby has become widely known and highly respected as a man of business ability and honesty throughout the State of Maine.

Following in the footsteps of his father, Mr. Boothby has always been closely interested in the affairs of the Republican party in Maine and has been active in political affairs.

Under Governors Bodwell, Marble and Burleigh, he served on the staff, and under Governor Marble he was named as commissary general, from which he received his title of colonel.

Besides his connection with the Maine Central, Mr. Boothby in the business world has been identified with many of the trust and banking companies of Maine. He has also held official positions in prominent railroad associations throughout the country.

In 1904 and 1905, Col. Boothby served most efficiently as mayor of Portland.

Howard D. Smith attended the Bankers' meeting at Hollowell, Saturday.

The Dennis Pike Real Estate Agency has negotiated the sale of the J. H. Randall farm situated in South Harrison to Joseph Pitts.

On account of the storm the Union Temperance meeting under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. at the Congregational church, last Sunday evening, was not largely attended. Rev. S. G. Davis attended a funeral service at South Waterville, in the afternoon and consequently was not able to be present. The meeting was opened with a praise service. Rev. Mr. Cotton offered prayer. Miss Staples and Gladys Keene sang a beautiful duet. Remarks were made by Rev. Mr. Rideout. It is the desire of the W. C. T. U. to have these Union Temperance meetings once in two months.

How to Save Money and Health.

Most people have some trouble with their health which they would like cured. It could be done easily and cheaply.

Dr. Greene of 84 Temple Place, Boston, Mass., who is the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, makes the following offer: He gives you the privilege of consulting him free of charge, through his great system of letter correspondence. Write him just how you feel and what symptoms trouble you. He will answer your letter, explaining your case thoroughly, telling just what ails you and how to get strong and well. He gives the greatest careful attention to every letter, and makes his explanations so clear that you understand exactly what your complaint is. And for all this you pay nothing. You do not leave your home and have no doctor's fee to pay. The Doctor makes a specialty of treating patients through letter correspondence, and is having wonderful success. He is the discoverer of that celebrated medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervine Blood and Nerve Remedy. If you write him at once you will doubtless be cured.

BUCKFIELD.

Dr. William Finkney Bridgman. Dr. Wm. P. Bridgman, the oldest citizen of Buckfield, after an illness of about two months, passed away, Saturday forenoon, at the age of nearly 92 years.

Dr. Bridgman was of a long line of physicians of the family name, which has extended through many generations. He was a son of Dr. William Bridgman, whose fame as a physician was widely spread during more than sixty years following the early settlement of the town, and who erected the spacious Bridgman mansion, which conspicuously crowns the hill overlooking the village and all the surrounding country.

Here the subject of this sketch was born, Sept. 3, 1816, being the sixth in a family of seven children, all of whom he outlived. He was bred a physician by his father and graduated from the medical school of Bowdoin college. His first settlement was in Canton where he married his first wife of that town by whom he had three children; but he soon changed his settlement to his native town which with the exception of a few years in Andover, has been his continued place of residence. He soon acquired a large practice, and succeeded to that of his father on the retirement of the latter.

For more than half a century he was the leading physician in this community. In politics he was a life long Democrat in religion a Universalist until late in life, when he became a member of the Free Baptist church. About twenty years ago Dr. Bridgman retired from active practice. He was a charter member of Evening Star Lodge of Free Masons and its first honorary member.

Dr. Bridgman's second wife, whom he married in 1871, was Mrs. Lucy L. Farrior, who has been his devoted caretaker during his declining years, and her daughter Carrie, now the wife of R. C. Bradford, has been his constant attendant. Dr. Bridgman was always a devoted one of his children. Besides these he has survived by three daughters, Ella H., wife of Roscoe Wood of Auburn, Florence May, wife of Dr. C. H. Daves of Seabrook, Mass., and Nellie D., now in Europe.

G. B. Spaulding has returned from a business trip to Boston.

The body of Mrs. Roland Foster was brought here for burial from Wallingford, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Rawson went to Boston, Thursday, where they will visit Mrs. Rawson's sister and nephew.

The Master Masons' degree was worked on one candidate at the regular meeting of Evening Star Lodge. The work was followed by an oyster supper, R. Crockett chef.

The winter term of the Buckfield high school closed, Friday, for a five weeks' vacation. A box supper was held by the members of the school league at Nesbitt Hall in the evening.

Hon. and Mrs. George D. Bisbee of Rumford Falls are at Washington, D. C., where they will spend some time before going farther south to Southern Pines and other winter resorts.

Rheumatic Pains Conquered by First Dose of Urico-O

A Trial Free to All Who Never Used It.

Mr. Frank Howe, a prominent farmer of Baldwinville, N. Y., says: "I visited the best physician in this country, who treated me for about two years for rheumatism. I spent that time several hundred dollars and seemed to grow worse instead of better. Each day I was on crutches and forced to drive to the train and hobbling to the doctor's office became very dangerous. One day I was unable to get out of bed for several days. Being advised by a friend I purchased Smith's Urico-O prescription, took it home and used it as directed."

"Those fearful sciatic pains left me, my blood seemed to let loose and flow freely, I felt different and knew the next morning I had found a cure, as I slept and rested, while the night, something I had not done before in two years. I used in all six bottles of Urico-O and have never felt a return of the disease, had no use for crutches or cane since the first day's treatment."

"I have since recommended Urico-O to hundreds of friends and acquaintances and in every instance it gave remarkable relief. I am invited to write him for further details. The manufacturer has so much confidence in the remedy that they will gladly give a large 75c bottle of Urico-O free to all Rheumatists who have never used it and are looking for a permanent, lasting cure for this most distressing disease. Address for free trial, Smith Drug Co., 235 Smith Bldg., Syracuse, N. Y."

Evil for Good!

We are told "He who sows courtesy reaps friendship, and he who plants kindness gathers love." This is a true and worthy saying in the main, a lofty and poetic sentiment as viewed from the poet's standpoint, but oh! how often are we repulsed with quite the opposite sort of harvest when to the best of our ability we have sown good seed! How often we are given evil for good, the cold and chilling gloom for pleasant warmth and deed, a true and sincere act as our light was given.

Yet we must still continue in well-doing and drink from the fountain of ill-usage and contempt for our remunerations. We are anxious to be good for those who would do well! What work for our ministers of the Gospel who are ordained to preach peace and good-will!

Still we are told to think and act kindly if we would reap love, friendship. Why not all well as a few (try the blessed rule, then there will be no need of fear of a repulse or break-down from the rule. If all strive to follow the injunction our Divine Master has given us, and act leniently toward our fellow beings we will all do well.

It is the great Leader of the world, not any human being of earth who says:—"All things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them." This is the groundwork of all Christian faith, and we look for the promise toward which all are tending, for there is no immunity from this law. If in the word of God there is one thing more strongly emphasized than another, it is the great theme of redemption and regeneration for the purpose of bringing about peace and good-will and love to those there be peace if there is rivalry and enmity? How can there be good-will where prejudice exists?

Can anyone expect that Divine Love and favor unless he strives to obey His precepts? Who says "Love one another," and "Love is the fulfilling of the law."

No one of whatever creed can deny these rules as laid down in God's word, though seldom given due credence; and these his is his intention as a good and a conscience seared, he will awake to a newer and more wholesome life who carefully considers them. "Do justly, love mercy and walk humbly with thy God." JENNIE E. SNOW KIMBALL.

BETHEL.

C. C. Foster of this place, who has been employed as bookkeeper by Mr. Whitman in Boston for the past year, has purchased the grocery store of G. A. and W. C. Stevens at Ridgville. His family will remain at Bethel.

Fresh Egg Stamp.

A number of enterprising egg producers have hit upon the idea of using a rubber stamp with name and address and date to stamp the eggs they market.

In this way a customer knows just how fresh the product is that he buys. At the same time quite a private trade was worked up for the man who cared to cater to it.

As usual, the rascal saw his way to making money out of the idea, so fictitious names and addresses were stamped on to great quantities of eggs, bought up in common market crates and of doubtful age. Of course, if a customer kicked on one man's alleged product she could be induced to try another brand. Many times the "eggs" were stamped "freshly fresh" and no address given. In some States laws were enacted making it a misdemeanor to buy up eggs and stamp them thus.

This reminds me: Why do not the breeders who send out eggs for hatching stamp their own address on the egg? There would then be no chance for a rascal to try to open the package en route and substitute infertile eggs of his own procuring for a few of your precious shipment. I have heard of this being done in some cases. The customer finds a disappointingly large per cent. of infertile eggs. She thinks, of course, she has been cheated by the breeder.

She complains and the breeder, knowing his eggs having been hatching well for himself and others, imagines she is trying simply to graft him for a new setting of eggs free. The real culprit is seldom discovered. Such a thief cannot possess himself of a stamp bearing your name and address without trouble and fear of detection.

The Best Cure for Colic in Horses.

Colic is usually the result of indigestion, caused by sudden changes of feed, too long fasting, food given when the horse is exhausted, new hay or grain, or large quantities of green feed.

Every horse owner should keep Sloan's Sure Colic Cure in his stable, as an insurance against colic, for an attack of colic is liable to come on without warning at any time, and Sloan's Sure Colic Cure is the safest and best remedy to use. It acts instantly on the stomach and bowels and can be given by a woman or child.

"I cured a horse with colic that had been treated by a good veterinary surgeon for forty-eight hours," writes Mr. R. A. Pierce of Cohutta Springs, Ga. "The horse was about dead and the owner said he wouldn't take five cents for him. I gave him three doses of Sloan's Sure Colic Cure and he was up and eating hay in ten minutes."

OXFORD.

Ted.

While stories of animal intelligence are going the rounds of the newspapers Oxford would add hers to the list.

Ted is a thoroughbred Boston terrier of blue blood, the favorite pet of two ladies and a gentleman. He is six months old and during his puppyhood has divided his affection as equally as possible among his two mistresses and one master.

Last Saturday evening Ted in company with his younger mistress and his master started out for his daily walk minus the chain which he usually wears. Thus he was untrammelled and could think as he ran. The lady stopped at the baker's and made a purchase which was put into a paper bag. As she came out she laid the package in a corner of the small portico and went on to another store. The gentleman proceeded leisurely to the barber's still further on. Ted was somewhat puzzled but decided to follow his master, perhaps as the walk would be longer.

After making her purchases at the store the lady missed Ted, and started in search of him. She went to the barber's shop whistling and calling as she went but no Ted could she find and quite disconsolate returned home. Ted meanwhile had escorted his master to the barber's but did not enter. He returned to the store where he had left his mistress but missing her went on home. Stopping at the baker's where the bundle had been left, he took that by the string and without mishap carried it home. Making his presence outside known in the usual way he went in and upstairs, laid the bundle at the feet of his older mistress and looked for her approval and praise.

Later when the others returned home he was ready to greet them and tell in the best of dog language what he had done. He had never been trained to carry bundles nor was he accustomed to go where he pleased.

Was his act one of reason or instinct?

There are several people in Oxford county who have attended the New Hampton (N. H.) Literary Institution and they will be pleased to read that Arthur B. Meservey has received the New Hampshire Rhodod. scholarship. Mr. Meservey is a son of the late Dr. A. B. Meservey, for many years the principal of the New Hampton Literary Institution. He was graduated at Dartmouth in 1906 with very high honors and with a record as a successful intercollegiate athlete. After graduation he taught for one year at the Gunnery, a famous Connecticut preparatory school, and then returned to Dartmouth for graduate work in physics. At Oxford he will work in physics and the higher mathematics.

THE BEST FOR BILIOUSNESS

Brunswick, Me., Oct. 1, 1906.

"I have used the 'L. F.' medicine for years; in fact, never intend to be without it in the house. I think it the best medicine for biliousness that I have ever used." Respectfully yours,

Mrs. S. C. Wilson.

The burden of living falls on the stomach. When it is overworked the liver becomes deranged and the system clogged. "L. F. Atwood's Bitter" assists nature so gently that the whole system quickly and quietly responds to its healing action. 35c. at your dealers.

THE ILLS OF WINTER.

The Easiest Thing in the World to Overcome Them If You Know How.

No season of the year has greater variety or more acute ills than the months from October to April.

The winter bruises and sprains or the serious colds that lead to pneumonia, can all be readily cured by Neuralgic Anodyne. There is not a home in the Northern States that will not get many times its value at this season from the Anodyne.

Rheumatism, neuralgia, headaches—in fact, aches and pains of every description are quickly and positively cured by this valuable household remedy. Even the sore chilblains will quickly disappear when Neuralgic Anodyne is rubbed on.

If you use a bottle of Anodyne and do not think you have gotten more than 25 cts. value from it, take back the empty bottle to your dealer, and he will refund the money to you and the proprietors, The Twitchell-Champlin Co., of Portland, Me., will reimburse him.
